REGISTER OF
ST. ANDREWS PARISH, BERKELEY COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA.

1719-1774.

Copied and Edited by MABEL L. WEBBER.

St. Andrews was one of the original parishes of this Province laid out by the Act of Nov. 30, 1706; the bounds as fixed by the Act passed Dec. 18, 1708¹ were as follows: "to the north-east by the north-west line from the north bounds of the plantation of Christopher Smith,² to the north-west bounds of Berkley County, the bounds of St. James, Goose-Creek, to the South east by the sea, to the South-west by Stono River, and the bounds of Colleton County, and to the north-west by the northwest bounds of Berkley County."

On Dec. 11, 1717, an act was passed dividing St. Andrews parish, and the upper part was formed into St. George's parish, "bounded to the South-east by the plantation of Mr. Beadon inclusive, and from thence by a West line to the bounds of Colleton county, and also by another Straight line from the Said Beadon's to the plantation of the late William Rowsam, deceased, where Mr. Robert Dews now lives, inclusive, and from the said plantations of said Rowsam, deceased, by an East line until it touches the bounds of the parish of St. James Goose Creek, and on all other parts by the same bounds the said parish of St. Andrews was formerly bounded."³

The first rector of St. Andrews was the Rev. Alexander Wood, A. M., a Missionary sent out by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, he came to them in 1707, and died in 1708.⁴

In 1711, the Rev. Ebenezer Taylor was appointed by the Society to this parish; after a number of disputes with his parishioners, he was removed in 1717 and sent to North Carolina.

The next rector, the Rev. Mr. Guy, though a native of England, was no stranger to this Province, having been appointed by the Society assistant rector of St. Philips and head of their free school in Charles Town in 1711, and subsequently was rector of St. Helena's parish. In 1719 Mr. Guy was invited to the cure of St. Andrews, which was then vacant, the Society subsequently confirmed the appointment. He remained rector until his death in 1751.

The parish remained without a regular rector until 1753 when the Rev. Charles Martyn, A. M., who had been sent out by the Society in 1752 was chosen. Mr. Martyn resigned in April 1770 and returned to England. Thereafter the Rev. Thomas Panting officiated occasionally, until the Rev. John Christopher Ernest Schawb, a native of Franconia, was elected Nov. 25, 1771; he died of malaria July 5, 1773. There does not seem to have been any other rector until 1787, when the Rev. Thomas Mills was elected, who continued in this cure until 1816.⁵

The Journals of the Diocesan Convention show no rector assigned to this parish from 1816 until 1824, when the Rev. Joseph M. Gilbert was rector of St. Andrews and of Grace Church, Sullivans Island.

In 1825, the Rev. Francis H. Rutledge, Deacon, was minister; from 1826 to 1829 the cure was vacant. From 1830 to 1837, the Rev. Paul Trapier was rector; in 1838, Rev. Jasper Adams, and from 1839 to 1851 the Rev. J. Stuart Hanckle. In 1852, the Rev. John Drayton Grimke began his ministry which lasted, except for the years 1865 to 1871, when the parish had no rector, until his death, in 1891.

The old parish church is no longer used, but is still in a fair state of preservation; over the west door is the following inscription:

J. F. . . . T. R.
SVPER. VI.
1706.

⁵Dalcho.

The first church, like its successor, was of brick; in 1723 it was altered and enlarged; this church was destroyed by fire and rebuilt by subscription, and an act was passed Aug. 10, 1764 authorizing the church Wardens and vestry to sell the pews.⁶

The graveyard contained about three acres; this is now overgrown; and most of the grave stones have disappeared.

Dalcho says that the journals of the vestry, and the parochial register, are lost, but that the book of the church wardens, dating back to 1734 is still in existence. Since his time this church warden's book has disappeared; but the register, of which Dalcho had no knowledge, is fortunately, still in existence, having been in the custody of the Drayton family for several generations.

The book in which the Register was kept is a parchment bound volume 13½ inches long by 6½ inches wide; it is in an excellent state of preservation except for the first few pages where the edges are worn off. The records are written in several different hands. On the cover is the following inscription:

The Register Book [kept?] by the Rev^d M^r Guy for the Use ——* Ps^h of S^t. Andrews begun y^e ——* of January 17¹⁸/₁₉ p^r. the Rev^d W^m Guy ——* of the s^d.
Parish.

Some of the birth records go back to earlier dates than 1719, and were evidently entered from the knowledge of the clergyman, or at the request of the parents.
